

Article references – guidance

Reference list

References to other publications must be in Harvard style using author and date.

References should be gathered together at the end of the main body of the text in alphabetical order by author.

- Where there is more than one reference from the same author(s) in the same year, references should be identified by suffix letters e.g. (Pearce, 1995a).
- References should be made only to works that are published, accepted for publication (not merely 'submitted'), or available through libraries or institutions. Any other source should be qualified by a note regarding availability.
- Footnotes should be avoided, but any short, succinct notes making a specific point, may be placed in number order following the alphabetical list of references.

Citing in the text

References should be cited in the text either in brackets, e.g. Earlier studies (Pearce, 1989) showed... or using the name as part of a sentence, e.g. Pearce (1989) states...

- For two authors the format is: (Huberman and Miles, 1998).
- For three or more authors: (Dwyer et al., 2000).
- Groups of references should be listed first alphabetically and then chronologically, e.g.
  - ✓ (Crompton, 1979; 1999; Fakeye and Crompton, 1991; Gunn, 1988).
- For quoted material a page number is required, e.g. [Pearce, (1989), p.22].

Personal communications - emails, conversations, letters - should not be in the reference list, but may be mentioned in the text, e.g. (interview with the James Green, University of Southern California, 12 November 2008).

Any additional reading not cited in the text should be in a separate list.
